

Dado Coffee Table White

A white marble top ringed in brass — Art Deco, distilled into one round table. It anchors the center of a seating area with a presence that feels considered rather than loud, holding drinks, books, and conversation alike. The marble surface carries natural veining no two pieces share, and the brass rim traces a crisp line around the edge. A powder-coated round base keeps everything steady underfoot. Pure geometry, dressed for the occasion.

- Art Deco Lines: The round silhouette and brass-rimmed edge nod to Art Deco design, giving a seating area a clear, sculptural center point.
- Marble Top: Natural marble forms the surface, so veining and tone vary piece to piece, bringing genuine stone character to every coffee table.
- Brass Rim Detail: A slim brass rim wraps the edge, adding warm metallic contrast against the white marble and framing the top with a clean finish.
- Steady Round Base: A powder-coated iron base holds the table level and stable, with a round footprint that keeps the look open and easy to walk around.
