

Ellie Dining Chair Rust

The Ellie dining chair features a padded winged backrest, a refined invitation to gather. A robust rubberwood frame bathed in a dark espresso brown finish harmonizes with the rustic, rust, easy-to-clean performance fabric upholstery, adding a vintage charm with modern convenience--a versatile design that complements a myriad of interior styles.

- Modern Ease: Clean lines and a softly curved back create an open, design-forward silhouette that keeps dining rooms feeling balanced, welcoming, and comfortable across occasions.
- Performance Fabric: 100% polyester performance upholstery balances a soft hand with everyday resilience, delivering approachable texture and reliable wear suited to busy household dining spaces.
- Solid Construction: Rubberwood frame with plywood reinforcement teams with quality foam cushioning to deliver dependable structure and comfort designed for regular, long-term daily use.
- Everyday Practicality: Supportive sit and smooth surfaces suit casual breakfasts and long dinners alike, coordinating easily with varied table styles and finishes throughout the home.
- Oeko-Tex Certified: Fabric is Oeko-Tex certified, meeting established standards for tested textiles so you can select materials made with mindful considerations for everyday living.
