Harrison Bench Tan

Channel-stitched buffalo leather stretched across an iron frame — Harrison keeps things clean, comfortable, and quietly confident. The top-grain, aniline-dyed leather wraps a foam core with polyfill, creating a seat that stays supportive without losing its shape over time. And about that time — the tan leather will soften, lighten, and develop a rich patina with everyday use. A mid-century modern bench that seats three and settles into any room it enters.

- Channel-Stitched Design: Channel detailing across the buffalo leather seat adds texture and visual rhythm to a clean, mid-century modern silhouette grounded by an iron frame.
- Top-Grain Buffalo Leather: Upholstered in aniline-dyed, top-grain buffalo leather in a warm tan tone with natural texture and character unique to each piece.
- Polyfill-Wrapped Cushion: A foam core wrapped in polyfill creates a supportive, comfortable seat that holds its shape through years of everyday use and gathering.
- Protective Leg Glides: Included leg glides protect floors from scratches and scuffs, making it easy to move and reposition the bench without worrying about damage.
