

Haynes Accent Chair Textured Oat

Exposed oak arms, textured oat boucle — Danish modern, softened. Rounded contours and gently tapered legs give the Haynes a refined mid-century influence with a contemporary feel. Textured boucle in a multi-tone oat plays against a solid oak frame, while curved exposed-wood arms add warmth and a distinctive silhouette. A generous back with foam and fiber fill keeps the sit supportive. Sculptural to look at, easy to settle into.

- Mid-Century, Softened: Rounded contours and gently tapered legs nod to Danish mid-century design, giving the accent chair a refined silhouette with a contemporary feel.
- Textured Oat Boucle: Textured boucle in a multi-tone oat brings soft, layered character and warmth, adding depth against the exposed oak for material contrast.
- Curved Oak Arms: A solid oak frame with curved exposed arms intersects the upholstered seat and back, adding craftsmanship and a distinctive, sculptural profile.
- Made for Comfort: A generous back filled with foam and fiber keeps the sit supportive through long conversations, balancing the chair's sculptural looks with everyday comfort.
