

Henry Metal Tall Cabinet Black

Built differently. The case for going full metal. Henry brings something different to the mix—full metal construction with a clean, transitional frame that adds texture and polish to any space. Four doors, half-glass and half-solid, offer a sleek way to show off what you love and stash what you don't. Inside, adjustable shelves and media cutouts keep things tidy. Finished in matte black powder-coated steel, it's a storage piece that keeps its cool—on display and behind the scenes.

- Sleek Black Metal Finish: Crafted from smooth, black powder-coated metal inside and out, creating a sleek and modern look that complements a variety of decor styles.
- A Balanced Display: Two glass panel doors allow full display, while the two solid doors provide concealed storage for a clean, organized look.
