

Jack Side Table Brushed Dark Brown

Built to round things out. A solid oak top with a smooth bullnose edge meets four sculptural column legs in a bold joinery detail that’s all craft and confidence. The legs add weight and definition to the rounded form, striking a balance between soft curves and strong structure. Finished in a wire-brushed dark brown, it’s grounded, sculptural, and made to hold a drink (or two).

- Joinery Detailing: The meticulous joinery details where the substantial column legs meet the tabletop are a showcase of artful craftsmanship.
- Bullnose Beauty: The round tabletop boasts a sleek bullnose edge, adding a modern touch to this timeless piece.
- Texture in Focus: Wire-brushed oak's rich, organic texture takes center stage, creating a versatile backdrop that brings an airy feel to any space.
