

Laval Cast Aluminum Vase

A wide, low oval in burnished copper, equal parts vase and sculpture. The Laval sits with a confident, sculptural presence, its inward-tapering sides giving the form a gentle, organic quality. Cast aluminum carries a burnished copper finish that's deep and complex, with natural variation across the surface for an authentic, aged patina feel. As much a decorative object as a working vase, it holds its own with or without stems. Sculpture that happens to hold flowers.

- Sculptural Oval: A wide, low oval form gives the vase a strong, confident presence, reading as a sculptural object as much as a functional vase.
- Burnished Copper Finish: Cast aluminum carries a deep, complex copper finish with natural variation across the surface, giving it an authentic, aged patina full of depth.
- Inward-Tapering Sides: Slightly curved, inward-tapering sides give the vase a gentle, organic quality, softening the form and adding to its considered, sculptural feel.
- Vase or Object: It works as a vase for stems or stands alone as a decorative object, holding its sculptural presence either way.
