

Niels Large Coffee Table Ash Stained Walnut

Low, wide, and hewn — a coffee table with some serious gravity. Strong geometry and warm ash give the Niels table a grounded, sculptural presence, sitting low and close to the floor for a sense of calm stability. Subtly rounded edges soften the heavy top, while legs integrated into the volume make the whole form read as one solid, hewn piece rather than assembled parts. Solid where it counts, soft at the edges — quietly sculptural.

- Low and Grounded: The table sits low and wide for a sense of calm, stable presence, anchoring a seating area with strong, sculptural geometry.
- Solid Ash Wood: Solid ash in an ash-stained walnut tone brings warm color and natural grain, giving the piece honest wood character and substantial weight.
- Softened Edges: Subtly rounded edges soften the visually heavy top, adding refinement and a smooth, hand-finished feel to the strong, blocky form.
- Integrated Legs: Legs integrated into the volume make the table read as one hewn, solid piece, reinforcing the sculptural look from every angle.
