

Rothko Tall Outdoor Side Table Black

A monolithic little form that can't decide: stool or side table? A high-quality concrete and fiber mix shapes the Rothko piece into a sculptural, monolithic form that works as a stool or a side table, indoors or out. Its adaptable design slots into an organic garden arrangement or pulls up beside a sofa as an end table, while the concrete-fiber blend keeps it sturdy in the open air. Sit on it, set a drink on it — either way, it is a work of art.

- Dual Purpose: An adaptable monolithic form works as a stool or a side table, moving easily from a garden arrangement to a spot beside the sofa.
- Concrete and Fiber: A high-quality concrete and fiber mix gives the piece a sturdy, solid feel and sculptural weight that holds up indoors or outdoors.
- Weather-Ready: Water-resistant construction stands up to sun, rain, and outdoor use, making the piece a durable fixture for patios, gardens, and covered spaces.
- Sculptural Statement: A clean, monolithic silhouette reads as a work of art on its own, bringing modern presence in a black finish indoors or out.
