

Emil Counter Stool Berry

That carved arch back? It's the detail that makes a counter seat feel intentional. Emil brings a little depth and dimension up to bar height, with an airy silhouette that won't visually crowd your kitchen. The warm brown rubber wood frame and clean tapered legs keep things light, while Berry polyester upholstery wraps foam-and-fiber cushioning for comfortable support. Finished with plastic glides for smooth pull-ins and easy tucks, it's designed for quick coffees and long catch-ups alike.

- Carved Arch Back: Arched backrest with carved wood detailing adds depth and dimension, while tapered legs keep the profile light and modern at counter height.
- Polyester Upholstery: 100% polyester in Berry feels smooth and easy to live with, paired with foam and fiber fill for comfortable, supportive seating.
- Rubber Wood Frame: Solid rubber wood in a warm brown finish grounds the stool with sturdy support and a warm contrast to the upholstered seat.
- Glide-Friendly Feet: Plastic glides help the stool move smoothly on hard floors, reducing scuffs and making pull-ins feel effortless.
