

Sami Dining Chair Brown Set Of Two

Pull up a seat that looks as good as it feels. Sami balances curves and structure for an organic profile that stays sharp around the table. Wrapped in performance polyester in warm camel-brown, it's ready for weeknight pasta and last-minute guests. A rounded backrest supports you, while foam over a webbing seat keeps things comfortably springy. Angled back legs and a dark-finished rubberwood frame add sculptural stability. Consider it the quiet anchor your dining setup needed.

- Modern, Organic Lines: A balanced blend of curves and structure, finished with angled back legs for a sculptural look that feels current, not fussy.
- Performance Upholstery: Covered in 100% polyester performance fabric in camel-brown, designed for everyday dining life and the occasional “oops” moment.
- Solid Wood Support: Rubberwood frame in a dark finish delivers steady structure, with a shape that's supportive without feeling rigid.
- Comfort, Built In: Foam cushioning over a webbing seat creates a more forgiving sit that holds up through long dinners and longer conversations.
