Sanna Sideboard

Brass that doesn’t shout—it just shows up looking composed. The Sanna Sideboard balances clean lines with subtle curves, bringing a calm, modern rhythm to dining rooms, entryways, or anywhere clutter likes to gather. Aged brass-finish metal doors add depth through gentle variation, while minimal paneling keeps the look focused on that warm sheen. Dark brown painted MDF legs ground it all, with softly rounded edges for an easy finish. Storage, but make it considered.

- Balanced Modern Form: Clean lines meet subtle curves for a tailored silhouette that feels current, calm, and easy to style across rooms.
- Aged Brass Doors: Iron-sheet front doors wear an aged brass finish with natural variation, adding depth and warmth without overpowering the space.
- Grounded, Well-Made Base: Painted MDF legs in deep brown give steady support, with softly rounded edges that soften the overall metal-forward look.
- Clean Storage Front: Minimal door panels keep the profile streamlined and let the rich brass tone stand out, whether styled open or kept minimal.
